Reflection
The new year is a familiar time for people to make goals and resolutions. This year take the time to reflect on your last semester(s) at the U. What did you like? What were your successes? Who was supportive of you? How was your time organized? Which classes did you really enjoy and which ones not so much? Think about ways you can have a more positive experience. Would that include becoming more involved on campus or trying out a new hobby or sport? What was frustrating and how can that be changed? A new semester is here and you have a clean slate to create what you need!
