Why Celebrate on November 8

November 8 was selected as the date for the annual National First-Generation College Celebration to honor the anniversary of the signing of the Higher Education Act of 1965. The Higher Education Act ("HEA") emerged out of President Lyndon B. Johnson’s War on Poverty. Much like other hallmark legislation of that era, such as the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965, HEA was intended to help level a playing field that for too long had been weighed against Americans from minority and low-income backgrounds. In addition to creating federal grants and loan programs to help students finance their educations, the legislation made key investments in institutions of higher education. Additionally, HEA ushered in programs, particularly the Federal TRIO programs, necessary for postsecondary access, retention, and completion for low-income, potential first-generation college graduates.

Please see the link below for the virtual event recordings which includes various speakers and the history of first-gen student definition.

The University of Utah celebrates Native American Heritage Month by first acknowledging the land that belongs to the original inhabitants-Shoshone, Paiute, Goshute, and Ute Tribes, prior to the colonization to which we now call the state of Utah.

We celebrate Native and Indigenous identities with the following events.

Rock your Mocs begins on the week of Nov. 15th

Nov. 16-“Land Back”: A critical conversation about reconciliation which is a virtual panel Hosted by Elizabeth Kronk Warner

10 a.m.-11:50 a.m

Nov. 18-College of Law Book Review

Hosted by Elizabeth Kronk Warner

Nov. 20-Virtual Film Screening and Panel Discussion hosted by the American Indian Resource Center

Finding a parking spot is one of those daily hassles everyone who drives needs to do. Parq has created a possible solution.

Now with the Parq app, users can register their property and begin making money off their parking spots. They already have partnered up with several businesses and homes near the University of Utah campus and are looking to add more in the upcoming months.

William Pepper who is a third year business student along with co-founder Juno Kim who is a computer science graduate alumni from the U, are the leading force of Parq.

Please see www.parq.tech for more information.

Campus Resources to know

We recognize there are times when students need additional help outside of TRIO, especially during a pandemic. Below are many of our campus community partners that provide wonderful services. If what you are looking for is not on our list please contact your advisor at our office. Together we will find the resources you are looking for.
