NATIONAL TRIO DAY

On February 24, 1986, a congressional resolution declared that Saturday, February 28, 1986, will be designated as "National TRIO Day."

Every year since then, our community has reserved the fourth Saturday in February as National TRIO Day-- an opportunity to focus the nation's attention on disadvantaged young people and the support they need for success.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Black History Month is an annual celebration of achievements by African Americans and a time for recognizing their central role in U.S. history. Also known as African American History Month, the event grew out of "Negro History Week," the brainchild of noted historian Carter G. Woodson and other prominent African Americans. Since 1976, every U.S. president has officially designated the month of February as Black History Month.
